"I take a client-centric approach to litigation while balancing appropriate aggressiveness with comprehensive risk management." - Kristine Wobig

Kristine Pasowicz Wobig joined Hansen Dordell with significant workers' compensation practice experience having represented employers and insurers as well as individuals in the past. She focuses her practice on the representation of employers, insurers, and third-party administrators in workers' compensation and civil defense matters. Since starting her legal career, Kristine has successfully represented many clients through all phases of litigation to obtain favorable results. She routinely appears before the Department of Labor & Industry and Office of Administrative Hearings in addition to the Workers' Compensation Court of Appeals. Prior to starting her legal career, Kristine worked in media relations for a Fortune 500 company, which allowed her to gain unique insight into all aspects of business operations.

Kristine enjoys providing continuing education for her clients and making herself available for questions, whether routine or complex. Her clients appreciate her confident approach to litigation that takes into consideration the "big picture" and overall end goal.
